CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATES.

This weekend we are celebrating graduates, and there is certainly a reason to celebrate. Our graduates have accomplished something. I used to think that graduation meant the end of something. With that thinking, I thought it was a little silly to celebrate pre-school, kindergarten, or even elementary graduation. That’s because I’m not sure I had ever met someone who stopped their schooling at any of those levels, but I was wrong. Not that I’ve now met people who quit school that early (though I have), but I’ve come to understand graduation better. The word “to graduate” comes from the Latin word gradus which means “step.” Graduation is to go up a step. It’s why we even refer to the year of school one is in as a “grade.” So any graduation is a big deal, it means that we’ve climbed another step. And every step we climb is a big deal. So again, to all our graduates, congratulations!

I wonder if those of us who are done with school think about celebrating the steps that we take in other areas of life? Steps of parenting, steps in independence, steps in holiness? We don't climb stairs just to get to the top, we do it to reach a goal. If we pay attention to the progress that we make, then we can recognize that we are getting closer to our goals. Recognizing that we’ve moved a step closer is a great way to keep our goal in mind and recognize progress. I recommend that we celebrate all the steps we climb just as we celebrate those climbing big steps this weekend.

And of course, let’s keep climbing those steps to heaven,

Father Chris

MEMORIAL DAY PRAYER INTENTIONS: If you have the name of a veteran who has died (either while in the line of duty or after their service) please send the slip at the bottom of this page to the parish office, or use the link here: <https://tinyurl.com/MPHM-SJ-MemorialDay> and Father will be sure to pray for them at the Memorial Day Mass. Deacon Mike will then forward the list to the military archdiocese where they will be prayed for as well. We will be retaining this list year over year, so if you submitted a name previously, it is still listed.

Bishop Thomas approved our plans, and the new roads will be paved this summer. A custom statue of our Blessed Mother is being carved and, schedules allowing, she should be erected in the new section by late summer. It is our goal to have our new section and our Blessed Mother statue in time to be blessed by Bishop Thomas on August 27th. Please look for further information this summer in the bulletin on the blessing and on the sale of graves. Thank you to everyone who has made this project possible. God Bless!

Reflections on the Readings

Fifth Sunday of Easter

taken from St. Joseph Sunday Missal

First Reading – Acts 14:21-27

On their way home from their missionary journey, Paul and Barnabas revisit the congregations that they have previously founded. Notice the encouragement “to persevere in the faith. “It is necessary for us to undergo many hardships if we are to enter into the kingdom of God.”

Indeed, the Christian can sing: “(God) Your kingdom is a kingdom for all ages, and your dominion endures through all generations. I will praise your name forever” (Responsorial Psalm). We have reason for abundant joy, but we must be ready to undergo trials as a condition to enter God’s kingdom.

Second Reading – Revelations 21:1-5a

Utilizing the language of vision, the sacred writer consoles those who must “undergo many hardships”. According to the ancients, storms at sea were thought to be caused by evil monsters; hence, “sea” stood for threat and peril. Accordingly, the words “the sea was no more” mean that all peril had passed.

The author also sees “the holy city, a new Jerusalem”; God had been present in the sanctuary of the old Jerusalem temple; now there will be a new kind of divine presence, enjoyed by all the members of God’s people. All these new things are initiated in their lives as Christians, but they will be fully realized only later.

During Easter Time, meditation on God’s saving presence may help us to persevere in the faith.

Gospel – John 13:31-33a, 34-35

In this reading, Jesus is seen looking forward to his glorification, his enthronement as Son of Man, King of God’s reign. And God will be glorified in him.

Today Christ is no longer visibly present to his Church. He knows that we are subjected to trials. Waiting for his return, the disciples and all of us must support one another with our mutual love and concern. This life-style, mutual support in love, is so characteristic of Christians that others should be able to recognize us by it!

PRAYER FOR THOSE IN SERVICE

DID YOU KNOW—GOD’S LOVE

God sent his Son to show us the way to the Father, and through that great love Jesus his Son, died so that we may have life everlasting by forgiving our sins. Last Sunday, we celebrated Mother’s Day and it floods our memories of the love our mothers give to us. Especially the love of Mary, Jesus’ mother.

In this week’s readings we hear about the love of the Good Shepherd, and how by listening to his voice and following him we find a love relationship.

In our world, ever changing over these past 2,000 years plus, there are still people who hunger for the Good News. The need for God’s message is alive and it isn’t that we must stand on the street corner and shout to the world. It is being the hands and feet of Christ to others, through our actions and words.

This past Thursday, Jesus talks about receiving him. It is easy to receive those in our circle but what about someone who is different from us, the stranger, or the enemy? It takes very little to smile and quite frankly to introduce ourselves. The next time you see someone at Mass you don’t know extend a smile and think about saying “glad to see you “or “are you new here, we are glad you could join us.” Those little words go a long way at spreading the mission of the church. By extending ourselves we receive much, maybe a new friend and hopefully a new parishioner. If we trust that God is leading us and not doubt as Thomas did, when he said; “Master, we do not know where you are going; how can we know the way?” Jesus promises us that he is: “the way, the truth, and the life.” If we trust and are willing to extend ourselves, the rewards are great. By Friday of last week, we hear how Jesus calls us friend. I don’t know about you, but my week has been filled with interactions of parishioners, meetings, and preparing for upcoming events. Sometime stimulating, sometimes draining, and others time filled with great joy.

Looking back and just basking in God’s relationship of friend centers me. Jesus knows me best and he still loves me, as he does all of us.

So, this week we congratulate our graduates, and in this celebration of a milestone in their life, we extend love and support for what lies ahead. Let us extend well wishes to the graduates and their families, because with God’s love leading them, they are destined for greatness.
